

It's a Wrap!

Course Profile

There's no other team-building course like it! Experience the dynamic, skilled and high pressure world of television ably assisted by professional Presenters, Cameramen and Technicians in a fully equipped TV studio.

As a team you will write, produce and present your very own live television show learning all the necessary skills throughout the day. To ensure real success teams must communicate their ideas effectively, organise schedules and responsibilities, and work together under pressure. The proof of what you have learned will be in the pudding - a DVD copy of the final production you have created during your 'in at the deep end' guide to TV production and presentation!

Who is the course intended for?

- This course can be tailored to suit the needs of all. It is aimed at encouraging team-work in a reasonably pressured but fun and exciting environment
- Up to 8 delegates (minimum of 4). Larger groups can be accommodated
- One-day course at a client's own premises or at a Mediawise Associates site

Key Learnings

- Learn how to effectively develop creativity
- Team bonding through shared goals
- Discover how effective planning can lead to better results
- Realise the importance of individual contribution
- Understand the need to work together

What you will receive

- Pre-course information
- An entertaining, hands-on, highly interactive workshop delivered by an experienced professional television Presenter, Reporter or Correspondent
- A DVD of your very own TV show

Costs

This course can be held at the Maidstone Studios (the UK's largest independent television studios), at an external location or on your own company premises. The course material can be adapted to suit your own requirements. Courses are priced individually depending on the number of delegates and location.

Office: 01892 665017 (M-F 09.00 - 17.00)

Mobile: Rachel Eltham 07967 276194